Approvers can return or reject requisitions.

- Returning allows the Requestor to make edits to the original requisition and resubmit the request under the same requisition number.
- Rejecting cancels the requisition in its entirety:
  - Rejected requests do not return to an editable draft request, and the requisition number cannot be reused.
  - Rejecting a requisition should be reserved for requests that are not compliant with funding restrictions, inadequate budget, or unnecessary requests for goods and services.

1. There are several options for navigating to your approvals:
   - Option 1: Click Orders → Approvals → Requisitions to Approve.
   - Option 2: Click the Action Items icon at the top of the screen, and select My Assigned/Unassigned Approvals.
   - Option 3: In the Action Items section of the dashboard, click the links under My Assigned Approvals or Unassigned Approvals.

Tip: You can also access your approvals from the Shortcuts menu under Document Search.

2. Expand the My Requisition Approvals folder to view details of requisitions assigned to you.

   Note: You can also click the other approval folders to access unassigned requisitions that reside in your shared department queue. You need to assign the requisition to yourself in order to return or reject it. You can use the eye icon to expand and collapse as well as show and hide details of requisition.

3. To preview the requisition, click on the click quick view icon on the right side of the requisition line.

4. If you do not want to use the preview function, you can view the requisition by clicking the requisition number.
5. On the Requisition page, note the following sections:

- Summary tab: contains sections on General details, Shipping and Billing Addresses, Accounting Codes, Notes and Attachments, Special Handling information, Ad-Hoc Approvers, and the Supplier and Line Item information

- What’s Next? section on the right shows the details of the approval workflow, including current position within the workflow

- PO Preview tab: Preview of Purchase Order

- Comments tab: View and add comments. All comments are delivered to the recipient’s Harvard email address. The comment is time/date stamped and historically recorded with the requisition

- Attachments tab: All attachments associated with the requisition, both internal and external

- History tab: Record of all actions taken on the requisition

Note: Approvers can only change certain fields on a requisition during the approval process. Click here to access the FAQ on the B2P Website for more information.

6. After you have conducted a sufficient review of the requisition, click on Requisition to open the actions menu and select either Return to Requestor or Reject Requisition.

7. You will be prompted to provide a reason for your return or your rejection. This comment will be included in the notification back to the Requestor.

8. Click the Save Changes or Reject Requisition button to finalize your action. An email notification is automatically delivered to complete your return or rejection.
